

Born on Friday the 13th, Amandine likes to think she lives under a lucky star. She grew up in Ardèche, but it was Ecuador, where she lived for 2 years, that changed her life by giving her a taste for adventure. An Illustrator, a drawing teacher, a community manager, an accountant, and a mom... Amandine doesn't have a minute to herself, which is why she drinks her coffee cold all the time. Her only free time is in the evenings when her daughters are sleeping so she takes this opportunity to draw quietly on her Ipad in front of a good series. Some of her clients include Adobe, René Furterer, J.Louis David, Marrionaud, Viktor and Rolf, L'Oréal and more. Amandine enjoys listening to Gorillaz and Radiohead, and she loves street and Japanese art. She is usually inspired by Miyasaki films, fashion, and good food.
