

Bianca (Palette Box) is an illustrator based in Bucharest, Romania. Her passion for drawing and illustration started in her childhood and specifically from story books. This passion remained alive over the years, and now illustration is part of her everyday life. She is fascinated by images that convey to a story and out- lines images and scenarios that people can identify with. In general, Bianca's works start with simple geometric shapes that slowly build up into complex images showcasing vivid colours and strong contrasts. Her favourite themes are the ones related to travel, landscapes and day by day activities.
