DISTINCT . DIVERSE

Nana lives in Rosario, a city in Argentina, at the shores of Parana's river. She graduated in Fine Arts, and while she was studying, between her and her mother, they opened a paint workshop (her mom is an artist too). This allowed her to work while she was studying. One day at an art fair, an independent editor of children's books saw one of Nana's artworks and had the idea of hiring her to illustrate one of her books. That's how her history as a freelance illustrator of children's books began. Nana likes to be 'oldschool' and prefers painting her illustrations manually. Besides illustrating, she's always loved arts and crafts. So, when she has the chance, she mixes her illustration work with jewelry and pottery.
