SERENA LOMBARDO

Serena Lombardo was born in Naples, Italy. She graduated from the Naples Fine Arts Academy, and then followed her dream specializing in Illustration and Concept Art at Scuola Italiana di Comix. After that, she expanded her craft by taking courses in Character Design at Geko: The Guru Lab. As a child, she dreamed of being a valiant knight, and she found her true Excalibur in a pencil. Travel, movies, videogames, fantasy and sci-fi books, are a continue source of inspiration to her for finding new ways to illustrate stories. She loves to use vibrant colours and funny elements - she has found her call in digital painting. She currently lives in her hometown and, in her free time, she loves playing videogames and travelling the world with her boyfriend. Drawing fantastic and adventurous worlds has always been her passion, and making others dream by telling stories through illustrations her mission.
