

Wesley van Eeden is an illustrator based in Durban, South Africa and has over 10 years experience working with clients all across the planet. Graduating from Durban University of Technology in 2004 he has worked with clients such as Bill Gates NGO Gates Notes, Nike, Fifa World Cup and more.. Since an early age Wesley has been intrigued by colour, shape and the ability to create stories through pictures. His work is influenced by his travels around the world where he sometimes gets the opportunity to paint commissioned murals. His illustrative work has taken him across the globe from South Africa, Ethiopia, Finland, New Zealand and the America's.. these experiences are soaked up and inspire him to create unique points of view in his illustrative universe. He has work in private collections in places like Queens College in New York City and SHENMOMA in Virginia, USA.
